

A photograph of a classroom or computer lab. In the foreground, a person with long brown hair, wearing a blue hoodie, is seen from behind, sitting at a desk with a computer. Their right arm is raised high, holding a pen. Several other people are seated at desks in the background, also with their hands raised. Each desk has a computer monitor. Some screens show a colorful grid of icons. In the far background, a person is standing and gesturing, possibly a teacher or presenter. The room has framed pictures on the wall and a whiteboard.
